

ENG 288-004
Introduction to Fiction Writing

Spring 2025
T/Th 11:45 AM-1:00 PM
Tompkins G117
Total Course Credits: 3
Prerequisite: ENG 101

Instructor: Shelby Weisburg (she/her/hers)

Email: scweisbu@ncsu.edu

Office Hours: 1:00 PM - 3:00 PM Tuesday & Thursday and by appointment

“Each of us is here now because in one way or another we share a commitment to language and to the power of language, and to the reclaiming of that language which has been made to work against us.”
(Audre Lorde)

NC State Land Acknowledgement: NC State University is a land-grant institution for the people of North Carolina and respectfully acknowledges that the lands within and surrounding present-day Raleigh are the traditional homelands and gathering places of many Indigenous peoples, including eight federally and state-recognized tribes: Coharie, Eastern Band of Cherokee, Haliwa-Saponi, Lumbee, Meherrin, Occaneechi Band of the Saponi Nation, Sappony and Waccamaw Siouan. We share an ongoing responsibility to safeguard these lands and to respect the sovereignty of the tribes and Indigenous nations residing in North Carolina. NC State honors all Indigenous peoples who have been and continue to be an integral part of our university's history and culture.

Course Description:

Welcome to Introduction to Fiction Writing! The goal of this course is to expose students to all of the different voices, subjects, and forms that fiction can take and to provide tools, strategies, and innovative language to craft the genre, question its boundaries, and assist students in finding their unique authorial voice. Students will learn to write about an issue or event in a personal, stylish way while maintaining rigorous and scrupulous artistic integrity. Students will engage in writing in a collaborative manner, workshopping, editing, and revising their pieces. In sum, we will read stories, we will read essays about writing stories, we will write stories, and we will do it altogether. My best advice for you in this class is to put in what you want out of the course and write what you truly want to write.

Course Objectives/Outcomes:

- Students will read and critically engage with fiction texts representing a diverse range of topics, subgenres, and perspectives.
- Students will learn about, and put into practice, conventions and characteristics of creative fiction.
- Students will compose a series of fiction texts, and take them through the processes of idea formulation, drafting, workshopping, and revision.
- Students will engage in a collaborative writing process.
- Students will develop an awareness of audience and work to construct an ethos and voice that responds to audience feedback.
- Students will experiment with voice, styles, and forms.
- Students will learn to take responsibility for their own learning, their commitment to their craft, and their formulation of an empathetic, critically-minded learning community.

Required Texts and Materials:

- All assigned readings for class will be uploaded for you to the course Moodle page and you are not required to purchase any books for this course.
- No shade, but: If you are not willing to read and respond to at least 30 pages of writing in preparation for each class, please drop this course to make space for students invested in this learning community.

GRADING:

How to get a “B” Grade in this course:

1. Presence and Participation: You fully participate in at least 85% (23/27) of our scheduled class sessions and their activities and assignments, which means you will need to be present in class. We will all get the most out of this class when we are all present (not online shopping or checking iMessage), taking risks, sharing ideas, and participating in discussion. I understand not everyone “participates fully” in the same way. Some of you may say five auditory words over the course of the semester and prefer to listen & reflect through writing; some of you will lead discussion so often you may be asked to step back and invite others in. Written feedback for your peers and Moodle discussion forums are also included in my definition of “full participation.” But (and it’s a big but) you cannot miss more than 4 class sessions and still receive a “B.”

*If I mark you absent/non-participatory, I’ll email you to inform you & check in on you.

NOTE: Assignments not turned in because of an absence, either ones assigned on the schedule or ones assigned on earlier days in class, will be late, missed, or ignored (depending on when you turn it in)(see the guidelines below).

Any EXCUSED absence due to a university-sponsored group activity (e.g., sporting event, band, another class field trip, etc.), military-related absences (e.g. deployment, work, duty, etc.), jury duty, or documented illness will be considered independently of the above attendance policy, as long as the student has FIRST provided written documentation (email Shelby!!) as soon as they are aware of the days they will be absent. This may include absences due to illness that has a medical/doctor’s note confirming the illness. Each of these circumstances will be determined on a case-by-case basis in consultation between the student and instructor in a manner that is fair to all parties involved. See NC State’s official absence policy here:
<http://policies.ncsu.edu/regulation/reg-02-20-03>.

-
2. Completed Work: You turn in all work and assignments expected of you in the spirit they are assigned and on time. This completed work includes:
 - Final Portfolio submitted ON TIME. Must include at least 20 total pages (double-spaced, 12 pt Times New Roman font).
 - Workshop in-line comments and workshop letters for each member of your workshop group
 - Workshop manuscripts submitted ON TIME
 - Midterm Writing Reflection (in-class)
 - Assigned Moodle Discussion Forums (questions for visiting writers must be submitted ON TIME)
 - Come Find My Desk! assignment (due at the end of the semester ON TIME)

3. Late Work: During the semester, you may turn in assignments late. You are adults, and you know how to manage your time better than I know how to manage your time. However, I cannot review a million late assignments at the end of the semester, and I want to ensure that there is some accountability for folks to fully participate in classroom discussion. So, late assignments MUST be turned in within 48 hours of the deadline for the assignment. At the bottom of this grading contract section is a table which stipulates the number of late assignments allowed for each letter grade.

NOTE: Workshop manuscripts CANNOT be submitted late. If you do not show up for your assigned workshop time slot, you will forfeit your workshop slot and receive an automatic “ignored” work for the assignment. Missed workshops cannot be made up, but if you have a scheduling conflict for an EXCUSED absence or you are ill, please email me IMMEDIATELY and we can reschedule you. Furthermore, final portfolios, questions for visiting writers, and the Come Find My Desk! assignment MUST be submitted on time. Please be considerate of our guests and of my time and energy at the end of the semester. Last minute technology malfunctions will not be accepted as an excuse for late work.

4. Forgotten Work: If you turn in late work AFTER the 48 hours stipulated above (Late/Incomplete Work), then it will be considered “forgotten work,” which is a more serious mark against your final grade. This is due to the fact that all assignments are used in class when they are due, so turning in something beyond 48 hours after it is due means it is assured to be less useful, and its absence has hurt your colleagues in class (since they depended on you to complete your work for the benefit of the entire classroom environment).
5. Ignored Work: You do not ignore any work expected of you. Ignored work is any work unaccounted for in the semester—that is, I have no record of you doing it or turning it in. I believe that ignoring work so crucial to your development as a learner in our classroom hurts the learning of others, which is unacceptable.

The grades of A (4.0) or A+ (4.33) require more labor that helps or supports the class in its mutual aims. In order to raise your grade, you may complete as many of the following items as you like. Each item completed fully and in the appropriate manner will raise your final course grade by one grade category.

- Final Reflection essay: In addition to your final portfolio, you may submit a final reflection essay (1000+ words). This final reflection essay is not a full-blown academic essay but should reference at least four readings from the semester’s assignments and should attend to some or all of the following questions: What have you learned about writing this semester? What have you learned about yourself as a writer this semester? Which aspects of this course were the most challenging? Which aspects of this course were the most (un)helpful? How does your final portfolio demonstrate what you have learned from this course? What are you proud of this semester? How will you continue to practice what you’ve learned in this course?
- Attending two literary events on campus: Over the course of the semester, the English department, other NC State departments, nearby universities, and local bookstores will host readings by writers. I will keep you posted on these events so that you can attend. Attendance at these events is highly encouraged—even just for fun! To go beyond the default grade, please attend two events and draft a short (250 word), reflective write-up about each event.

- Assist with a lesson (TedTalk): You can create a 20 minute presentation or lesson plan that pertains to this class. Take a look at the Semester Schedule. Are there any topics or readings that stand out to you? Something you think is missing? If you would like to assist with a lesson, please email me (Shelby) at least two weeks in advance. For your presentation, you will need to submit a brief lesson plan/outline to me as well as a short reflective essay (250 words) post-presentation about what you learned from preparing and teaching your lesson.
- Some other labor that benefits the class and our mutual learning. Do you want to write about and report to us on a cultural event related to the class? Or produce a podcast? Or maybe you would like to read an article for us and summarize some of its findings or ideas that you think will help us do our work in class? If you have an idea, come to me (Shelby) early in the semester. I will work with you to plan your endeavor and make sure the amount of labor is commensurate and equitable with the above items.

For every item you complete on the above list, your grade will improve by one grade category. So if you meet all the conditions for a “B grade” (3.0), then your grade can improve in the following ways:

- 1 item completed = course grade of 4.0 (A)
- 2 items completed = course grade of 4.33 (A+)
- 3 items completed = you’re just an awesome human!

If you only meet the requirements for a “C grade” (2.0) or lower, the same movement up the grade ladder applies by completing items on the list above. You may even do more than two items and continue to raise your grade regardless of what grade you are qualified for. For example, if you only meet the requirements for a “C grade” (2.0) in the table below, but do 3 extra labors above (the max), then your final course grade will be an A+ (4.33).

Breakdown of Overall Grading Structure

Below is a table that shows the main components that affect your grade in this course. These are the ONLY grades you may receive in this course (there are no in-between grades, like a C+ or a B-).

Letter Grade	# of absences	# of late assignments (within 48 hrs)	# of forgotten assignments (after 48 hrs)	# of ignored assignments (never turned in)
A+ (4.33)	4	3	1	0
A (4.0)	4	3	1	0
B (3.0)	4	3	1	0
C (2.0)	5	4	2	0
D (1.0)	6	5	3	1
F (0.0)	7 or more	6 or more	4 or more	2 or more

The table above is what I will use to calculate final grades (keeping in mind that the final portfolio and some other assignments cannot be turned in as “late” or “forgotten.” If your final portfolio is turned in late, you will receive an automatic “ignored” for this assignment, and thus an automatic “D grade” in the class). If you would prefer to think of this in percentages, here is a rough breakdown of the assignment categories in this class and how they are weighted towards an overall “B grade”:

Participation (including class attendance, forum posts, workshop drafts, Come Find My Desk! assignment, and the in-class midterm writing reflection) — 70% of your final grade

Final Portfolio (20 pages, double-spaced) — 30% of your final grade

*Each assignment included in the “A Grade” category will boost your grade roughly 10%.

Workshops: Writing is about community and communication thus feedback is vital for writers to improve their craft. A writing workshop is a supportive space where writers work together to enhance each other's work. As your instructor, I will work to provide the foundation for a productive, collaborative, and empathetic workshop space. Criticism is part of writing and reading, but bullying or meanness of any kind will not be tolerated.

Due to the size of our class, we will only be able to conduct a full class workshop on one of your pieces at the end of the semester. Other workshops will be conducted in small groups. For every workshop, you will be required to submit your drafts in advance for your peers to be able to read and engage with your work prior to the date of your workshop. You will also be required to make in-line comments on each writer’s submitted piece and write short feedback letters (250-500 words) for the first two workshops. These document copies and feedback letters should be uploaded to Google Drive before the writer’s workshop. More direction will be provided before workshop. These feedback letters should answer the following questions: What is working well? What needs more improvement? What questions, suggestions, or What Ifs do you have?

Semester Schedule:

(subject to change, all changes will be announced in class, via email, and updated on the syllabus document in blue)

All readings are linked below or will be uploaded to Moodle.*

Reflection questions should be posted to Moodle.*

All assignments counting toward your final grade are highlighted in yellow.*

Date	Topic	Assigned Work (to be completed before class)
January 7	Course Introductions and Expectations
January 9	Finding Your Story	Read: How to Become a Writer by Lorrie Moore Watch: The Danger of a Single Story by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie; On Finding the Why by Roxane Gay Post: A reflection (at least 250 words) on the provided discussion question to Moodle. Due by 10 AM, January 9.

January 14	Flash Fiction	Read: The Ant in the Water Droplet: Locating the Mystery within Memory by Philip Graham, The Volta in Flash Fiction by Cole Meyer Locker Room Talk by Stephen Dunn (Moodle), My Mother in Two Photographs, Among Other Things by Aleida Rodriguez (Moodle), Girl by Jamaica Kincaid (Moodle) Bring: A photograph to class for an in-class writing activity.
January 16	Flash Fiction	Read: “Writer’s Block” by Zariya Perkins (Moodle) Somebody Else’s Genocide by Sherman Alexie, The Story of an Hour by Kate Chopin, Give It Up by Franz Kafka, Taylor Swift by Hugh-Behm Steinberg Post: Flash Fiction Piece (500-750 words) due to Google Drive by 11:59PM, January 17.
January 21	Small Group Workshops	Read: The Flash Fiction Pieces of your group members and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters for your group members to Google Drive by class, January 21.
January 23	Developing Character	Read: On the Necessity of Turning Oneself Into a Character by Phillip Lopate (Moodle), The Ethics of Writing About Other People by Phillip Lopate Where Are You? by Joyce Carol Oates (Moodle)
January 28	Developing Character	Read: When to Protect Your Characters, and When to Punish Them by Brandon Taylor A Good Man is Hard to Find by Flannery O’Connor Post: A reflection (at least 250 words) on the provided discussion question to Moodle. Due by 10 AM, January 28.
January 30	Developing Character	Read: Why I Write by George Orwell Cat Person by Kristen Roupenian (Moodle)
February 4	Setting	Read: The Problem With Writing About Florida by Kristin Arnett (Lit Hub) American Embassy by Chimamanda Adichie Post: A reflection (at least 250 words) on the provided discussion question to Moodle. Due by 10 AM, February 6.

February 6	NO CLASS–Professor cancellation
February 11	Wellness Day–NO CLASS
February 13	Dialogue	Read: A Temporary Matter by Jhumpa Lahiri; Hills Like White Elephants by Ernest Hemingway Post: A reflection (at least 250 words) on the provided discussion question to Moodle. Due by 10 AM, February 13.
February 18	Small Group Workshops	Read: The workshop pieces of your group members and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop feedback for your group members to Google Drive by class, February 18.
February 20	Midterm Reflection	Attendance will be taken. In-class writing assignment due February 20.
February 25	Plot	Read: “Making a Scene” by Anna Keeseey (Moodle) “Brownies” by ZZ Packer (Moodle) Post: A reflection (at least 250 words) on the provided discussion question to Moodle. Due by 10 AM, February 25.
February 27	Plot	Read: “Thickening the Plot” by Samuel Delaney (Moodle) Sonny’s Blues by James Baldwin (Moodle)
March 4	Telling v. Showing	Read: “The Three Words That Almost Ruined Me As a Writer: ‘Show, Don’t Tell’” by Sonya Huber, “In Defense of Telling” by Scott Bane “Leopardia” by LaTanya McQueen (Moodle) Post: Two questions for LaTanya McQueen’s visit to our class. Due by 10 AM, March 4.
March 6	POV	Read: How to Write With Style by Kurt Vonnegut “The Thing Around Your Neck” by Chimimanda Adiche (Moodle)
March 11 & 13	Spring Break–NO CLASS
March 18	Structure	Read: Composition as Explanation by Gertrude Stein

		“Tony’s Story” by Leslie Marmon Silko (Moodle) Post: A reflection (at least 250 words) on the provided discussion question to Moodle. Due by 10 AM, March 18.
March 20	Revision	Read: “Shitty First Drafts” by Anne Lammott; Revise Like a Scientist by Lynne Griffin The Upright Revolution: Or Why Humans Walk Upright by Ngũgĩ wa Thiong’o Post: Workshop Group 1 should post their stories for workshop by 11:59 pm, March 21
March 25	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 1’s submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, March 25. Workshop Group 2 should post their essays by 11:59 PM, March 25.
March 27	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 2’s submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, March 27. Workshop Group 3 should post their essays by 11:59 PM, March 28.
April 1	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 3’s submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, April 1. Workshop Group 4 should post their essays by 11:59 PM, April 1.
April 3	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 4’s submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, April 3. Workshop Group 5 should post their essays by 11:59 PM, April 4.
April 8	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 5’s submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, April 8. Workshop Group 6 should post their essays by 11:59 PM, April 8.

April 10	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 6's submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, April 10. Workshop Group 7 should post their essays by 11:59 PM, April 11.
April 15	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 7's submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, April 15. Workshop Group 8 should post their essays by 11:59 PM, April 15.
April 17	Large Group Workshop	Read: Workshop Group 8's submissions and make in-line comments. Post: Upload workshop letters and in-line comments for your group members to Google Drive by class, April 17.
April 22	Last Day of Class & Farewells	Read: The Transformation of Silence into Language and Action by Audre Lorde (Google Drive) Visit: Come Visit My Desk! Assignment DUE by 3:00pm, April 22
April 25		Final Portfolio due by 11:59 PM. Must include at least 20 total pages (double spaced, 12 pt Times New Roman). Please see the Final Portfolio Assignment Document for more information.

Last but not least...

UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS AND POLICIES:

Academic integrity: Regardless of discipline, honest and rigorous scholarship is at the foundation of a Research I institution. Students are bound by the academic integrity policy as stated in NCSU Code of Student Conduct: <http://policies.ncsu.edu/policy/pol-11-35-01>. Students are required to uphold the university pledge of honor and exercise honesty in completing every assignment. Plagiarism is the act of taking someone or something else's ideas and passing it off as your own—this includes using Chat GPT to generate/complete assignments. Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Violations of academic integrity will result in referral to the Office of Student Conduct with a recommendation of a failing grade for the assignment, and they will be reported to the department head.

Reasonable accommodations will be made for students with verifiable disabilities. In order to take advantage of available accommodations, students must register with the Disability Resource Office at Holmes Hall, Suite 304, 2751 Cates Avenue, Campus Box 7509, (919) 515-7653. The Office will determine the appropriate accommodations and send a letter to the instructor explaining which accommodations are needed. For more information on NC State's policy on working with students with disabilities, please see the Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities Regulation \(REG02.20.01\).

Electronically-hosted Course Components: Students may be required to disclose personally identifiable information to other students in the course, via electronic tools like email or web postings, where relevant to the course. Examples include online discussions of class topics, and posting of student coursework. All students are expected to respect the privacy of each other by not sharing or using such information outside the course.

NC State University Policies, Regulations, and Rules (PRRs): Students are responsible for reviewing the NC State University PRRs that pertain to their course rights and responsibilities. These include:

- <http://policies.ncsu.edu/policy/pol-04-25-05> (Equal Opportunity and Non-discrimination Policy Statement)
- <https://oied.ncsu.edu/divweb/policies/> (Office for Institutional Equity and Diversity)
- <http://policies.ncsu.edu/policy/pol-11-35-01> (Code of Student Conduct)
- <http://policies.ncsu.edu/regulation/reg-02-50-03> (Grades and Grade Point Average)
- <https://policies.ncsu.edu/regulation/reg-02-20-04> (Audits)
- <https://policies.ncsu.edu/regulation/reg-02-50-03> (Incompletes)

Non-discrimination Policy: NC State University provides equality of opportunity in education and employment for all students and employees. Accordingly, NC State affirms its commitment to maintain a work environment for all employees and an academic environment for all students that is free from all forms of discrimination. Discrimination based on race, color, religion, creed, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or sexual orientation is a violation of state and federal law and/or NC State University policy and will not be tolerated. Harassment of any person (either in the form of quid pro quo or creation of a hostile environment) based on race, color, religion, creed, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or sexual orientation also is a violation of state and federal law and/or NC State University policy and will not be tolerated. Retaliation against any person who complains about discrimination is also prohibited. NC State's policies and regulations covering discrimination, harassment, and retaliation may be accessed at <https://policies.ncsu.edu/category/campus-environment/> or <https://policies.ncsu.edu/policy/pol-04-25-05/>. Any person who feels that he or she has been the subject of prohibited discrimination, harassment, or retaliation should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity (OEO) at 515-3148.

Pronoun Usage: In an effort to affirm and respect the identities of LGBTQ+ students in the classroom and beyond, please contact the instructor if you wish to be referred to using a name or pronouns other than those that are listed in the student directory.

Career Services For Humanities & Social Sciences Majors: Explore career options related to your major, make decisions about your major or minor, build resumes and cover letters, prepare for interviews, develop internship/ job search strategies, maximize career fairs, and more. Use ePACK to make an appointment with your career counselor through ePACK. Career Development Center, 2100 Pullen Hall. <https://careers.dasa.ncsu.edu/>.

For Student Ombuds: The Student Ombuds is a confidential resource (to the extent allowable by law), that provides a sounding board to discuss concerns related to your university experience - be they academic, personal or interpersonal, if it is important to you, it is an issue you can discuss with the Ombuds. The Student Ombuds provides information, discusses university policies and procedures, and helps students navigate their time at NC State. You can learn more about Student Ombuds Services and schedule an appointment by visiting <https://ombuds.dasa.ncsu.edu/>

For Food & Housing Insecurity: Any student who faces challenges securing food and/or housing or has other financial challenges and believes this may affect their performance in this course is encouraged to notify the professor if you are comfortable in doing so. Alternatively, you can learn more about the Pack Essentials program and available resources by visiting <https://dasa.ncsu.edu/pack-essentials/>.

Health and Participation in Class:

We are most concerned about your health and the health of your classmates and instructors/TAs.

- If you test positive for COVID-19, or are told by a healthcare provider that you are presumed positive for the virus, you should not attend any hybrid or face-to-face (F2F) classes and work with your instructor on any adjustments necessary; also follow other university guidelines, including self reporting (Coronavirus Self Reporting): Self-reporting is not only to help provide support to you, but also to assist in contact tracing for containing the spread of the virus.
- If you feel unwell, even if you have not been knowingly exposed to COVID-19, please do not come to a F2F class or activity.
- If you are in quarantine, have been notified that you may have been exposed to COVID-19, or have a personal or family situation related to COVID-19 that prevents you from attending this course in person (or synchronously), please connect with your instructor to make alternative plans, as necessary.
- If you need to make a request for an academic consideration related to COVID-19, such as a discussion about possible options for remote learning, please talk with your instructor.

Health and Well-Being Resources:

Everyone is encouraged to take care of themselves and their peers. If you need additional support, there are many resources on campus to help you:

- Counseling Center (NCSU Counseling Center)
- Student Health Services (Health Services | Student)
- If the personal behavior of a classmate concerns or worries you, either for the classmate's well-being or yours, we encourage you to report this behavior to the NC State CARES team: (Share a Concern).
- If you or someone you know are experiencing food, housing or financial insecurity, please see the Pack Essentials Program (Pack Essentials).

Community Standards related to COVID-19:

We are all responsible for protecting ourselves and our community. Please see the community standards (which have been updated for 2021) and Rule 04.21.01 regarding Personal Safety Requirements Related to COVID-19 RUL 04.21.01 – Personal Safety Requirements Related to COVID-19 – Policies, Regulations & Rules

Need Help?

If you find yourself in a place where you need help, academically or otherwise, please review these Step-by-Step Help Topics.

Class Evaluations:

Online class evaluations will be available for students to complete during the last week of Semester. Students will receive an email message directing them to a website where they can login using their Unity ID and complete evaluations. All evaluations are confidential; instructors will never know how any one student responded to any question, and students will never know the ratings for any particular instructors.

- Evaluation website: <https://classeval.ncsu.edu>
- Student help desk: classeval@ncsu.edu
- More information about ClassEval: <http://www2.acs.ncsu.edu/UPA/classeval/>

Other Important Resources:

- Keep Learning: Keep Learning
- Protect the Pack FAQs: Frequently Asked Questions | Protect the Pack
- NC State Protect the Pack Resources for Students: Resources for Students | Protect the Pack
- Academic Success Center (tutoring, drop in advising, career and wellness advising): Academic Success Center.
- NC State Keep Learning, tips for students opting to take courses remotely: Keep Learning Tips for Remote Learning
- Introduction to Zoom for students: <https://youtu.be/5LbPzzPbYEW>
- Learning with Moodle, a student's guide to using Moodle: <https://moodle-projects.wolfware.ncsu.edu/course/view.php?id=226>
- NC State Libraries Technology Lending Program