I believe everyone should try crack before they die. But like in a perfect world, you would know right before you die. He said, do in hospice. He said I would, I would do it in hospice. Guys, if you're going out, go out with a bang. I don't do a crack and pop. Bang. Come on. No, I

1 (12s):

Don't think crack is the best hospice drug.

0 (15s):

What would you choose? Heroin. Yeah. I'm give you that anyway. Yeah, they give you, that's what I'm saying. But they try out. Yo, let me ask you something. I wanna do hook. Have you seen somebody do crack and then like, not be like more mobile than they were Crack heads keep jobs. That's what I'm saying. Fentanyl kills. So what I'm saying, hospice should have crack,

1 (33s):

But these people aren't gonna be working. Yeah,

0 (35s):

But that's what I'm saying. Hospice will just have like a different swag to Yeah. This one is like an end stage thing. Yeah. Oh, okay. I'm not saying crack for the people. Gotcha. I'm saying crack. I Thought you were saying crack for the people.

1 (42s):

0 (43s):

No, I'm saying crack. When is done, you're like, when you are old and dying, when crack, when its done crack. Like, You Know when an airplane is going down and the mosques come from the ceiling, it should be a little crack as well. That's what should be in the mo. A crack pipes. What should be in the mosque? Planes going down. Crack pipe comes down from the top. And then it's like, and then you're like, man, this is not so bad. This is not, they'll hold the plane up themselves. Every, this is What Now

2 (1m 10s):

With

0 (1m 10s):

Trevor, Noah

2 (1m 12s):

With,

0 (1m 20s):

So welcome to it. It's an episode of, If I Ruled the World where myself, Josh and Christiana think about ways that we would change the world if we had all the power, as is usual, each of us suggests our idea. Everyone votes on it. Well he, the other two votes on it. And If you get a majority or If you get two people, then your vote is passed. So Josh Christiana, Do you wanna start after you Josh Christiana. You're the only person I think who's had one passed. I know. And I wanna be the one. Yeah. That has it. Again, now my competitive, I feel

1 (1m 56s):

You have

0 (1m 56s):

Stakes.

1 (1m 57s):

I feel like that's why she offered for me to go first because it's like she knows might be bad.

0 (2m 3s):

Okay. Josh, you go first.

1 (2m 5s):

I think that If I Ruled the World, everyone, every citizen of the world, after the age of about 22, potentially 25. Yeah. Would have to, at some point in the rest of their life, have at least one psychedelic experience.

0 (2m 22s):

Wow. Have

1 (2m 23s):

To, you have to. And you don't have to do it at 22. I I I say 22 because between 22 and 25 are the years where the, the brain of a human Really. You're like, so

0 (2m 34s):

You are waiting for the brain to settle the front. I'm

1 (2m 36s):

Line has to be in. Yeah. 'cause I'm, I'm not trying to offset where anyone was gonna go without this. Okay. Okay. And I want everybody to be able to be themselves. Hmm. But then I think that afterwards, it's probably one of the things, you can even save it until you're, until you're old. And If you die, I,

0 (2m 53s):

Yeah, but that's what I was gonna ask. What if people die before?

1 (2m 57s):

I Mean, they could die before they're 22. So I

0 (2m 58s):

Well, but what I'm saying is, is this is what I'm trying to say. Yeah. You, you've implemented a system. 'cause everyone has to. Yeah. But there's no time limit on it.

1 (3m 5s):

I would say the time limit on it is like probably 55.

0 (3m 10s):

55. Yeah. So before 55, you have to have a psychedelic experience.

1 (3m 13s):

Yes. Because I think that if, if it has a life altering effect on you at 55, there's still time to change your life around. And If you do it too late, I think it just reshapes how you feel about life. You've already lived.

0 (3m 29s):

Huh. Okay. I'm a little torn on this one. I think psychedelics can change the world in a positive way. I also do think not everyone should have to take them. And I think some people might take them and have like a really bad trip. And like, I don't know, if you've read these people's posts on like, ayahuasca, which I know is not exactly the same thing. Only people go and do like ayahuasca at one of these gimmicky retreats somewhere in the world. And then they come back and they leave their family and they like quit everything and then they go off. I don't know if everyone, would you give people psych evaluations beforehand? Would

3 (4m 8s):

There be a guide? I

0 (4m 9s):

Think would there be a guide?

1 (4m 10s):

A perfect example right? I could go is that apparently we have a misunderstanding personally, and we've made a tourism out of ayahuasca. Yes. We have. The, the tradition of ayahuasca was that the actual doctor, like the elder would take the ayahuasca Yes. And, and converse with you. Yes. And talk with you. We've made it so that we wanna take the ayahuasca. Yeah. So I would, I would say that there would definitely be like a sort of psych eval to make sure a person could handle it and

0 (4m 36s):

Everything. Okay. Okay. Okay. No, I'm, I'm with you a little bit more.

1 (4m 38s):

But I do think that the between the years of like 22 and 55 are where you are at your most, your most potential for being like stuck. I don't wanna disparage people's choices, but I think that some people who do fall off the grid after a psychedelic experience maybe really are like loosening themselves. Maybe that's not the crazy that we think it is. Okay.

0 (5m 5s):

I'm willing to accept that.

1 (5m 6s):

You Know what I Mean?

0 (5m 6s):

Because we don't know who their families are. We don't know who

1 (5m 8s):

Their families are. And we

0 (5m 10s):

Even have Yeah. We know what their job was like,

1 (5m 11s):

What you would even call traditions of, like you look at the Buddha and the Buddha left everything to go find enlightenment. But he, but he had responsibilities. He had a wife and he had children and everything. And so Oh,

0 (5m 21s):

So he was

3 (5m 21s):

A, I didn't know he was a deadbeat

1 (5m 23s):

Little bit. Wow. Yeah.

3 (5m 24s):

Didn't know that by him. Pretty sure.

1 (5m 26s):

Pretty sure he came back but didn't come back to raise them. Just

0 (5m 29s):

Back eventually. Yeah. Just came back to tell them that like, oh,

3 (5m 31s):

That's a bad person.

0 (5m 32s):

The idea of him leaving isn't a real, he was like, why are you crying? I was never here. So

3 (5m 36s):

He made someone a single mom,

0 (5m 37s):

But he was like, you were always single and you came

3 (5m 39s):

Into this and people have made him a god.

0 (5m 40s):

He's like, you came into this rules. He's not a god. He's like, it's an idea.

3 (5m 44s):

He's like a prophet. Yeah.

0 (5m 45s):

Yeah. But he's just like, yeah man, he's at

3 (5m 47s):

Least Jesus didn't have any kids. I'm not like saying you should be a Christian, but he had no kids.

0 (5m 52s):

He was going to, but then Pontius pilots happened and Yeah. The rest is history. So wait, Josh, you, you're saying this, are you saying this firsthand? Or you're saying this as like just an idea?

1 (6m 5s):

No, as as an idea.

3 (6m 6s):

So you've never done psychedelics?

1 (6m 8s):

No, no. I haven't done psychedelics.

0 (6m 10s):

Wait, so you don't know what could happen to you? Wait,

1 (6m 12s):

No. Okay. It's different. I would love to, I

0 (6m 14s):

Thought, I thought I would love to do it with you.

1 (6m 16s):

No,

0 (6m 16s):

No. I, I would put anybody on shroom. Why

3 (6m 18s):

Would you say this about me? You're like the shroom pusher.

0 (6m 20s):

No I'm not. You're like, no, no, no, no. I'm the open-minded encourager.

3 (6m 23s):

You're a highbrow, highbrow drug dealer.

0 (6m 25s):

I mean, I'm an open mind encourager. I think everyone should be open to like electric cars. I was one of the first ones saying to people, yo guys, let's do electric cars. And then if people don't want it, I was like, I don't mind you not doing it, but let's be open to the idea of it. Mm. We should all be open to more ideas that make the world a better place. Yeah.

1 (6m 41s):

I I agree with that. I would never put

0 (6m 43s):

Anything on Josh.

3 (6m 44s):

You've never done it, but you want everyone including yourself to do it. Yeah.

1 (6m 48s):

It'll be easier for me to do it.

3 (6m 52s):

Oh

1 (6m 53s):

Wow. But also, also, I will say this, I don't do it now under the current system that we live in. I can't just be a a, You Know, a black man out the streets on psychedelics for the first time. I don't know, I might take my shirt

0 (7m 6s):

Off Josh, start running, go. No, we go to Oregon. We go to, we find like an open field, You Know, and then we just get in touch with ourselves.

1 (7m 13s):

IGI guess

3 (7m 14s):

So. Wait, Jo, Josh, Do you even

1 (7m 15s):

Drink? No. No. I don't drink. I've never done anything. This is just,

3 (7m 20s):

Have you smoked weed?

1 (7m 21s):

No. This is me raw. Wow. This is just what I'm like This is you. Well,

0 (7m 25s):

I think, yeah.

3 (7m 25s):

You've done nothing in life.

1 (7m 26s):

No.

0 (7m 27s):

You know what we should do? We should. Well, you just made it seem like he's done nothing in life that's

3 (7m 31s):

Extreme. Have no,

0 (7m 31s):

You just made it like you were like, have you lived?

3 (7m 34s):

No,

1 (7m 34s):

But I know what

3 (7m 35s):

She meant. You don't take antidepressants, you're just raw dogging the world. No. Yeah.

0 (7m 39s):

No.

1 (7m 40s):

Wow. Yeah. This

0 (7m 41s):

Is so, this is deep

3 (7m 43s):

What

0 (7m 43s):

We should, Josh, we should start, why don't we start with a cigarette? You might discover yourself,

3 (7m 48s):

Have never smoked a cigarette. No.

0 (7m 49s):

You might like, oh no, you never know.

3 (7m 51s):

Josh. You are so

0 (7m 52s):

Cigarette, Josh, you're so pure. Oh, that you might smoke a cigarette and have like an ayahuasca experience.

1 (7m 57s):

I might smoke a cigarette and die.

0 (7m 59s):

That's right. I'm saying you might smoke one cigarette and be like, I see my ancestors. We'll give you like one like Marlboro, like an old school. That's

1 (8m 7s):

Insane.

3 (8m 7s):

Yeah.

0 (8m 8s):

Yeah. Just like one.

3 (8m 9s):

I think nicotine would be enough for him,

0 (8m 11s):

Man. Let's go. You Know, Josh, can I tell you what we should do? We should do, we should do podcast episodes and on each one we give you one substance. You try it and then we discuss it with you to see how you feel. I

1 (8m 23s):

Feel like in this scenario, you accidentally make crack the first episode.

3 (8m 28s):

If we don't do the other episode,

1 (8m 30s):

We're like, we can't find

3 (8m 31s):

Them. No, no, no, no. For Trevor Crack is the end game. Yes

0 (8m 35s):

It is. Okay.

3 (8m 35s):

So it'd be like season 40. Yes. It would Gosh. Would definitely be crack. Yeah. Gotcha. Yeah. I think Josh, we, your psychedelics thing since you like don't drink, you don't smoke weed. I don't know if you're the best authority on people trying the whole population trying other substances.

0 (8m 52s):

Josh. I think it's a fantastic idea, but carry

3 (8m 54s):

On. No, but like, it doesn't come from experience. Yeah. You Know?

1 (8m 57s):

Yeah. Yeah. It comes from just a lot of reading. I

0 (8m 60s):

I thought you were the

3 (9m 1s):

First. I thought you were on the same journey. This guy is on room expert. No,

1 (9m 5s):

But now to

3 (9m 5s):

Find out that you, you seem crazier now that you haven't done it.

0 (9m 8s):

The first, the first helicopter was not invented by someone who flew in a helicopter. Let the man be.

3 (9m 13s):

What does it even mean?

0 (9m 16s):

You don't have to do the thing to have the idea for the thing. That's what I'm saying. Josh is clearly an enlightened gentleman. No, but

3 (9m 22s):

He could Do, you could take him to Oregon and you do the thing and he comes back and he's like, absolutely not. So I want

0 (9m 27s):

We doing that. Josh,

3 (9m 29s):

I think Josh should do it because Justin doesn't

0 (9m 31s):

Do anything. It do it, it do it, do it,

3 (9m 34s):

Do

1 (9m 34s):

It. You Know. So I I hear what you're saying Christian. I I do get it. But I'm just saying off of both the things that I've seen from people, like, from not my firsthand experience, but from the knowledge of other people trying things and everything, I just, in the same way that I have not seen anyone be better for being drunk. I have not seen people hold lots of worse off for having a psychedelic experience. I agree with especially, especially ones that they are even intended to be a little bit life altering or mind opening and are not habitual. I've just not seen any negative repercussions in like a major way.

1 (10m 17s):

Maybe they had a bad trip, but I think that bad trip also made them think about why it was a bad trip and expose. No,

3 (10m 22s):

I think you're coming from a, to it from a very considered perspective. I respect it, but I still think you should do it. Yeah. Because I'm not gonna do it. So you do it.

0 (10m 31s):

Can I tell you what's funny about Christiana? Is this, you are gonna be scammed. I'm letting You Know you're gonna get scammed by 'cause remember this moment and bookmark This episode. The pharmaceutical industry Yeah. Is working on synthesizing psychedelics that grow from our own mother earth. They're finding a way to synthesize it and once they've figured it out, they're gonna get it passed by the governments and then they're gonna make it illegal to have the stuff that everyone can grow for themselves and not lose all their money on. And then they're gonna sell the thing that was natural to the people and it's not gonna have the full effect. 'cause they still wanted to like Yes. Okay. Make you like latch onto capitalism. Yeah. So they're gonna find a way to like, it'll make you feel good for a few moments and then it'll like go away.

0 (11m 13s):

But it won't have like the real life changing possibilities that like real psychedelics can have. And then when that comes out, it'll be in a pill form. It'll be widely accepted by society. Like most drugs are that have like the worst side effects. Yeah. Yeah. And that get people, You Know, opioid addictions and you name it. And then you see Josh Christiana will take that bottle and she'll tell us that she's on it. And we'll be like, why didn't you take the mushrooms? And she'll be like, because my doctor prescribed

3 (11m 36s):

That. Why? I'm gonna say after we, we spoke to Michael Pollin. Right. Josh. After that, I mean, my politics group chat that you guys my nerdy mom group chat. Yes. We had a thing and we were like, okay, we are gonna do a trip and we, we wanna get a guide and d shrooms. Oh, we wanna get your person.

0 (11m 53s):

Look at this.

3 (11m 53s):

We wanna get your person.

1 (11m 54s):

Wow.

0 (11m 55s):

This is amazing.

3 (11m 56s):

But we kept being mothers. There's so many caveats already. It's just like, I'm with you. Should this person wait, maybe this person sits out and like makes sure like our phones are this da da. So we were, we are considering it. I don't, I think we're all chicken to ever do it. Okay. We're tired, exhausted.

0 (12m 11s):

One step the right

3 (12m 12s):

Direction. We would probably just like sleep most of the trip. Yeah. But like, I'm, I'm becoming more open to it. I I think you should do it before you propose a law about it. It's only fair. Yeah. I Mean, unless it's there's political hypocrisy.

0 (12m 23s):

You Know what Josh? I see what she says. She thinks you're a chicken. You're not chicken. No. After This episode, me and you, we go and we are gonna make it happen. Any any questions from you Christiana? I'm ready to vote on this. Yeah.

3 (12m 34s):

I'm ready to vote on it. I don't have any questions. Okay.

0 (12m 37s):

Yeah. And you're voting.

3 (12m 38s):

I'm gonna vote no.

0 (12m 40s):

Damn.

3 (12m 41s):

But I, I think that the spirit behind it is a really beautiful thing. 'cause you're saying everyone should get the chance to be free. Yeah. Which is what psychedelics can possibly do.

0 (12m 52s):

But you're voting no.

3 (12m 53s):

Yeah. 'cause I don't think we should compel anyone to do things with their bodies. I'm truly pro-choice.

0 (12m 59s):

Damn. Josh, you are not pro-choice.

3 (13m 2s):

Well,

1 (13m 2s):

We compel people all the time.

0 (13m 4s):

Different stuff on the record as not being pro-choice.

3 (13m 7s):

I wouldn't even force people to take vaccines. Do You Know what I Mean? Wow.

0 (13m 10s):

I'm like, no, li Josh is, I'm libertarian into No, no. We recorded Josh

1 (13m 14s):

Let her hang with me. She said no vaccines.

3 (13m 17s):

No, I, I do vaccines. I want my kids to be around people who have vaccines. But I would never say If I was running a government, I'd be like, so

0 (13m 24s):

Like you body don't come near it. Don't touch it. Don't do

3 (13m 27s):

Anything. The autonomy, radical consent. I'd be one of, If I was Gen Z, I'd be, I wanted people Can I kiss you? Okay, now I'm gonna take off your top. Oh my. I'd be like that type of person, but I'm, I'm like a millennial as well. Oh. But yeah, I just, I feel we can't, I don't wanna compel anyone to do something with their body, especially that affects their mind. So I'm sorry. Said No Josh.

0 (13m 44s):

Well I still vote Yes. Because I think it's a wonderful idea that could set many people free. And I think we've lost many of the traditions that have helped people do that. But Christiana wants us to be stuck sipping on the juice that capitalism gives us. Only

1 (13m 57s):

It does sound She wants us a little

0 (13m 59s):

Like that. Yeah. She wants us to be stuck in our little cubicles and doesn't want us to be free.

1 (14m 3s):

You Know what affects the mind? You Know what affects the body, the phone. We all have one of those. Yeah. We need them to survive. We never let 'em go. Well maybe I should have tricked everyone

0 (14m 13s):

I

1 (14m 14s):

Was at. Everybody

0 (14m 14s):

Josh gotta know. We'll see what Christiana's suggestion is. We're gonna continue this conversation right after the short break. Alright. Christiana, it's your turn. Yeah. Okay. If you ruled the world,

3 (14m 33s):

If I Ruled the World, everyone would get an assigned partner and whatever you'd want that partner to be. So If you are a gay man and you really want a husband, we'd make sure you get a husband. If you're lesbian, you want a wife, I'd make sure you get wife straight, da da da. Or if you're someone that's like, I just want platonic love, we'd get you a best friend.

0 (14m 51s):

Now when you say get you, what is this? Where, who's the getting and how it's like, You Know, like how is the getting work? But I'm like, am I gonna get got like when you say getting, do I So we'd have like, someone's like, I want to have trouble.

3 (15m 1s):

We'd have like social work. No, no, no, no, no. Everyone would be compelled Yes. To have an assigned partner. You can say what that assigned partner has to be like. Is this somebody I But

0 (15m 11s):

We have to have them. Yes. So, so no one's single in the world.

3 (15m 15s):

No one's alone in the world. So like, remember you

0 (15m 18s):

Well, but no one's single as well. Well

3 (15m 19s):

You can have an assigned partner and not be romantically involved with them. So,

1 (15m 22s):

So you can just make your assigned partner a friend.

3 (15m 25s):

Some of it would be a friend. Oh, okay. 'cause some people struggle

0 (15m 27s):

To make friends. Wait, wait, wait. Okay, wait. So,

3 (15m 29s):

So I could, so imagine you're like, everyone has to have an assigned partner and as long as you're both alive, you are contractually obliged to each other in some way.

0 (15m 38s):

Okay. But what does that mean? What does what? Like

3 (15m 39s):

It could be it, some people would be like, I want a husband. Okay. So I would make sure that person got a husband or a wife.

0 (15m 46s):

And so they would be mashed up with somebody who wanted the opposite. Yeah, yeah. Okay. Okay, okay, okay.

3 (15m 49s):

Okay. And then some people would be like, I, I never, I don't want a husband, I don't want someone in my house, but I want to know. But when I grow old I'll have a companion. But I would prefer that to person to be a woman. Okay. I don't wanna, all right. And then we'll be like, okay, we're gonna find you a best friend and you we'd arrange it and you'd have to be together. And this is what I think it does. It solves our loneliness problem. 'cause there's so many people that like die alone and live alone. But If you have an assigned partner, that side of your life is taken care of.

0 (16m 24s):

I'm not mad at this idea. The only problem is I've read multiple studies that have said some of the loneliest people of those in a marriage.

3 (16m 37s):

No, but it doesn't have to be a marriage If you don't wanna

0 (16m 40s):

Marriage. Yeah. But what I'm saying is like imagine having a an assigned person who doesn't like you.

3 (16m 44s):

No, but we would do our best to ensure it's like a good, good match.

0 (16m 47s):

How Do you, how Do you, okay, so you're like using like algorithms and stuff and you trying to like

3 (16m 50s):

Algorithms, human wisdom, prayer maybe. I'm just saying it's just like, let's, let's be clear. People make really bad choices here. Picking their own time partner. This is, this is so it's not like you can do it any better. This is true. Right. And I'm like, let's outsource that to some sort of government body. And mind you, in the government, it's in their interest for you to be happy because happier people are more productive citizens and they, there's less crime, there's less violence, et cetera, et cetera. Now you guys are not sold. I'm not looking at your face.

0 (17m 23s):

Oh well I mean my face is giving me away. Yeah. Well

1 (17m 25s):

I think one thing to your point is I have to look it up, but I'm, it was like they did a, this is a survey, but basically they found that the divorce rate in arranged marriages when divorce was allowed and the divorce rate of love marriages was like pretty close. Oh, interesting. It was like, it was like not exactly the same. Yeah. But it was like very close. So I do agree with your, your thing of like, you are just as well off based off of your general personality and disposition of picking yourself as having someone pick for you. Because happy people make happy couples.

0 (17m 60s):

Yes. Okay.

1 (18m 0s):

My worry is that some people are like such proper like cat people that they're like, guys I don't want a person. You don't understand. I only like alligators.

3 (18m 11s):

But that person definitely needs a person. As somebody who's had like family members who just like isolate themselves from like the family for whatever reasons. And you like, You Know where they are, You Know what they're doing. It's a big worry.

0 (18m 28s):

So in your system you'd like pair them up with somebody who likes to dress up as an alligator.

3 (18m 33s):

Sure. If that's your thing. I'm, I don't kink shame you see. No, no,

0 (18m 36s):

I'm just saying because we're trying to solve problems here. I

1 (18m 38s):

So, so I think in your scenario you would have to align them with someone who was like so passionate about outreach and social work that they didn't mind just being a pen pal for maybe years until this person wanted to talk. Well

3 (18m 52s):

There are people like that. Yeah. You Know what I Mean? You Know, I, I think it would, it'd be like, it wouldn't be like an opposite attract thing. 'cause I think fundamentally they'd have to be assigned someone that has the same value system as them. Okay. Okay. Got it. Right. Even though if they have a different personality, but it would just mean that you would always have a person.

0 (19m 11s):

What if I kill my person?

3 (19m 13s):

Okay. Well

0 (19m 13s):

Do you gimme another one?

3 (19m 16s):

Well the thing is, If you go to prison, you're gonna have lots of assigned people Wow. In other

0 (19m 22s):

Cells. So my asylum follow me? Yeah. Okay. I was just trying to figure out like, okay.

3 (19m 26s):

No, I feel, I feel like I don't think it become contentious. All human relationships have stuff, but it, I think it would do a lot of things for loneliness. 'cause people get to a certain age and they just wake up. Maybe they get widowed or maybe they,

0 (19m 39s):

You Know, I hear, I hear it. Look, I think the sentiment behind it, like most of our sentiments are Right. I think it is a beautiful idea. The area where I think it falls short is this. I think that loneliness is always relative to what we perceive the, the other thing to be. Okay. So If you are on an island and there's only one other person on the island, you might find over some time you're like, this is life and this is great and you, you get what I'm saying? But If you, If you live in a world where there's like a thousand people and then you only know like one of them, you might still be lonely 'cause you're like, oh, I wish I had more friends. I only have one friend. And I, so I think people would just make that the baseline. Now you'd become the loser in your basement. Oh, you probably only have an assigned friend. Oh yeah.

0 (20m 20s):

Oh, look at you. Oh, is that your wife? Is that an assigned wife? Oh, so you would, I think you'd still have the same loneliness. And I also think like on a societal level, there's, there's also gotta be a thing that like pushes us as humans a little bit. And it's like, You Know,

3 (20m 32s):

That's the push.

0 (20m 33s):

I don't think it's the push. Okay.

3 (20m 34s):

So there's, I mean, but every year we pick up the newspaper, we watch news. Yeah. And there's a story of somebody who has died in their apartment Yes. Who's been there for years. Yes. And there's a smell coming from it. Right. And the neighbors are like, what's that? And then the police come. Yes. And it's a skeleton. There's a this specific case case of actually a black British woman and it's a skeleton. Right. Watching tv.

And it's like the apartment sticking time. Right, right, right, right. And I think about that happened so much in cities. Yes. But I'm on

0 (21m 1s):

The world. But I'm arguing. I agree with you. We've never heard that story happen in an African village.

3 (21m 6s):

Yeah. But Africa, I've

0 (21m 7s):

Never heard a story. One time

3 (21m 8s):

In Africa. You need to unsign people. What?

0 (21m 11s):

You,

3 (21m 12s):

You need less people in your business. No. So what

0 (21m 14s):

I'm saying is, what I'm saying is I argue the thing that you're pitching isn't the root cause of what's happening. I would argue you've ruled the world and you've thrown in like a way to like treat the symptom. But the real issue is just like us living isolated lives in our world, in our, You Know what I Mean? It is like, I, I, I, that's why I say I love the sentiment, but I personally am gonna vote no because I think you've fixed it the wrong way, in my opinion as a voter. And I think it's just gonna be like, it's just gonna be a different way to be lonely. And then some people, You Know, there's a weird thing. I think some people might even feel more rejected when their assigned thing doesn't work out because like an algorithm said it's supposed to work out and then it didn't work out. Imagine how much lonely you would be If you failed at the thing that was pre-chosen for you.

0 (21m 59s):

That was supposed to be perfect. So I'm gonna vote. No, that's my, that's I love, I love the sentiment behind it. I, it's a beautiful idea, but it's a no. Okay. Before

1 (22m 8s):

I, before I vote, I have one more question and one potential suggestion. One question. Would you daisy chain the, the people? So like let's say you have your person and then you're both like 28 and then your person, your assigned person passes. Do you get another person or are you like alone for the rest of life now?

3 (22m 27s):

No, I feel like, I think the assigned person is sacred.

1 (22m 32s):

Oh, okay.

0 (22m 33s):

Oh, I'm gonna go back now and vote more. No,

3 (22m 38s):

Because I feel like that damn knowing how human, You Know, I have a very dismal view of human

0 (22m 42s):

Nature. Damn.

3 (22m 43s):

Yeah. I feel like to Trevor's point somewhat, you just force

0 (22m 45s):

Sucks the soulmates on. You Know, have you watched that Twin Flames documentary? You've just twined people. Have you seen that scam? Everyone who's just listened to this go and watch escaping twin flames. And you, you'll see what Christiana has just pitched to her. 'cause she just said sacred, your partner's sacred. This is the fundamental premise of twin flame scams. I'm more voting. No.

1 (23m 8s):

So I am voting yes, but I have, I have a little tweak because I do think it would work better this way. Okay. If you were already gonna implement

3 (23m 18s):

It. I'm, I'm on board for the amendment. I just want the vote.

1 (23m 20s):

I think,

3 (23m 21s):

Wow.

0 (23m 21s):

This is the problem with politics

3 (23m 23s):

Today.

1 (23m 26s):

I think that your assigned person has to be someone on a different part of the world than you. And I think that at some point you each get a trip to see each other. Okay. So you can see each other as much as you want. So like

3 (23m 39s):

Cultural exchange.

1 (23m 40s):

Cultural exchange. Exactly. Because I think that you having a person in a place that you would probably never go and something You Know nothing about. That's actually what, like brings more humanity into it. Okay. What a

0 (23m 51s):

Terrible system.

1 (23m 52s):

What you

0 (23m 53s):

Guys are like ridiculously terrible. What I your assigned partner's gonna be in another country. Yeah. No. You can't afford to go see the one person who's assigned to you. No. But

1 (24m 1s):

You get a trip. Yeah.

0 (24m 3s):

One. Yeah. Even worse. Yeah. Here's what you could have had. Here's what you could have had. If you could have four flights.

1 (24m 8s):

No one, no one says you have to go back.

0 (24m 9s):

Yeah. But what If you, you like, you like, this person's perfect to me. I think. I think And now you can go. If you on a visas, just, this is American. This is what this is. Americans travel the world not knowing how hard it is to travel the world. You whip out your passport. Every country lets you in, If you came from any other country, you would never make that suggestion. Not imagine meeting your assigned sacred partner. You fall for them. Yeah. You're like, wow, this is the best person for me. And then the other country's like, you can't come in 'cause you don't have a visa. And then what? But they assigned partner. You wouldn't need

1 (24m 38s):

Visas. Yeah, that's what I'm saying. I mean you don't need visa. This is, this is her world where everyone has an assigned partner. So we don't have to worry about the borders in the

0 (24m 45s):

Don't No, you guys are adding like a bunch of, if I rules into one, if I rule No,

1 (24m 48s):

It's just No, no. It's amendments. No. She's the power to go ahead and make you the person

0 (24m 52s):

Vote. Go ahead. You voted yes. You voted yes. Yeah. Well mind and no, this is the craziest, most ridiculous combination of ideas. Can I tell you something? Yeah. This situation that you got, I would make a movie about this world and my movie would be about somebody escaping this world. And I would call the movie unassigned. That's what it would be. I could see the trailer now I'd be like in a world where

4 (25m 18s):

Everyone is forced to be with someone they don't know. Michael, come

0 (25m 22s):

Meet your assigned partner. I gotta get outta here. I gotta get outta here.

4 (25m 27s):

The government locks everybody down. They tell you who you should

0 (25m 31s):

Be with.

4 (25m 32s):

I say hello to your little friend. One woman decides to fight back. Am

0 (25m 39s):

I gonna take this shit? I don't need to sign

4 (25m 41s):

Anything. It's sacred. Mary. Goddammit. You're sick. One girl. Get her. Get her now up against the odds, Mr. President,

0 (25m 54s):

Do we have permission to take her out?

4 (25m 56s):

She's gonna shut it all down. I hate this system. Unassigned

0 (26m 4s):

Coming to theater soon. That's what I would make.

1 (26m 7s):

Amazing. I I

0 (26m 8s):

Mean I would watch it. Yeah. I would escape that world.

1 (26m 11s):

I would watch it. But I would also wish I was in that world.

0 (26m 17s):

Don't go anywhere. 'cause we got more What Now after this? Okay. If I Ruled the World, I, I would say we have no more politicians. They're gone. No more, no more presidents. No more senators. No more congress people. No more none of them. I think it is a defunct position. I think we no longer need it. Because the reason we needed it before was because we didn't have like telephones and internet. So villages and communities needed to get a person to go to the central body to tell the people there what they needed.

0 (27m 2s):

And because we like, we as the people were like working on our farms and stuff, we couldn't all leave our stuff to go and tell the people what we need. So we'd send a representative. That's where the term comes from. A representative to go and tell the other representatives what our neck of the woods needs. We no longer need this. Now I know what you're thinking, you're saying, but then Trevor, this seems like a world of chaos. Who is making the rules? Whose I, in my world, the rules are now made by the people, for the people. And what would happen is everybody would have a device. It is secure, don't worry. We've done the, the, we've done the work on this already. It's secure. And what you would do in your daily life is you would pick the things that you want to be a certain way.

0 (27m 43s):

So you would say like, oh, I think we should spend more money on roads and we should spend more money on books and education. Teachers should get more salary. And no, I don't want more war and I think we should also do this and we shouldn't do that. And that's all you would do

3 (27m 54s):

Every day. No, no,

0 (27m 55s):

No, no, no, no, no, no. You just do it when you wanna do it. You don't even have to do it like at in one go essentially.

3 (28m 0s):

So elections,

0 (28m 2s):

But all of, let's put it this way, all of this information will be pertinent at the time that it needs to be pertinent. But it isn't on the fixed cycle that it is the way it is now in elections. Because now this is arbitrary. So

3 (28m 13s):

It's a referendum, which I hate. 'cause of Brexit.

0 (28m 15s):

No, wait, wait, wait, wait. It's not a referendum because it's going into law. It's not a referendum. Right. Okay. So instead of voting for a person who could not do the thing you say, I must always point out many people get voted in and then do not do the thing that they say you would vote. And then if most people have voted for free healthcare, they would now be free healthcare. But who

3 (28m 35s):

Would give the free healthcare

0 (28m 36s):

Bureaucrats? Oh, so bureaucrats still run. What's happening? You need because people who push paper, this is what you need. You need actuary actuaries, and you need like accountants. And you need, you need this world. Right? And they're making the thing happen. They're executing what has come from the people.

But there's no longer a leader who gets to take the thing that came from the people and then like make it about themselves and then not do it.

3 (28m 60s):

How do you get to be a bureaucrat?

0 (29m 2s):

No, no. It's just qualifications. 'cause all you're doing is working things out. It's like economists, accountants, engineers, scientists. That's what they do. It's your job. You, you don't have power. You just have to do what the people said. Okay, so

3 (29m 13s):

Bureaucracies have a lot

0 (29m 14s):

Of power of power. No, but not in this system. 'cause in this system it has to be executed. It just has to be done. So let's say, let's say a community votes. They want a, a park and they want the park to be funded with their taxes. Then they would vote on this. Everyone has their little app and they would vote on it and it would get passed as a measure. And then the bureaucrats just have to make it happen. So you

1 (29m 34s):

Are almost having like elections towards policies.

0 (29m 37s):

'cause it's, yeah, there's no people involved. There's no people involved. There's no leader. There's no

1 (29m 41s):

Leader. It's just, Do you want, there's no debates. Do you want access to this thing? Because the, the reason that I, that I worry about there not being debates is that I think there's a disconnect. And some of this is just how we live as people, but there's like a disconnect between when you get to the ballot box and how something is worded versus the points that people made before you got there. Okay, cool. And so there are sometimes things that are like intentionally vague as in like they, they've, they've even been courts that had to throw out certain ballots before the vote because they were like, this is worded. And in a way to be

0 (30m 18s):

Confusing, it becomes like, it becomes backward mumble, right? Yes. With like, it's like a riddle almost.

1 (30m 22s):

Exactly. So then how would you stop people who let's say don't want women to have like access to abortion, right? That's still a belief someone will hold. Yes. How Do you stop them from using whether they're it's the bureaucracy or their, so the ballot,

0 (30m 37s):

The great thing in the system is in the same way you can use your phone today to reiterate or to explain or to define, right? If you use any of like, even basically basic level ais. Now I'm not even talking about one's connected to the internet, like a simple large language model. You can have that on device and it can just explain this to you. So it can say to you as Josh, Hey Josh, this is what this measure is. So you go as Josh, I do not think, 'cause you've said this on the podcast and I see you've brought it up again, you don't want women to have a choice over their bodies.

3 (31m 10s):

I

0 (31m 11s):

You brought it up again. And so for you, Josh,

1 (31m 14s):

That's not

0 (31m 15s):

For

3 (31m 15s):

You.

0 (31m 16s):

The thing would say to you as Josh, Josh, Do you think that a woman should be allowed to make choices over her body medically? And then you would say yes or no based on that. But it would make the language as clear for you as possible.

3 (31m 32s):

You, so you're letting a robot do that work? Like a what Do you mean an art? An AI would do the explain

1 (31m 37s):

The

3 (31m 37s):

Interpretation in the interpretation. Yeah.

0 (31m 39s):

Yeah. I'll, I'll tell you why. Lemme tell you why AI

3 (31m 42s):

Is so No,

0 (31m 43s):

No, wait, wait. Lemme explain why. Okay, go for it. Lemme explain why. So the first thing we have to do is separate types of ais, right? There's some ais that are very, they're they're insular. And then there are other ais that are, that are not. So they're connected to things and they No, no, no. This is locked in. It's insular. All it's doing is explaining. Does that make sense? It's not intelligent in that way. It is just, it's able to like rephrase the thing and explain it to you in a way it could translate into your language. It could use, You know, words that you understand more than others. It, that's essentially what it's doing. Okay.

3 (32m 15s):

Okay. So in your basically pitching direct democracy, it's like what the Greeks used to do, like, but a digital version. Yeah. Yeah, yeah. So that means everybody gets a say. Everybody gets a say and it's easy to have a say. Yes. Okay. I don't like that. Everybody should get a say. Everybody

0 (32m 34s):

Shouldn't get a say

3 (32m 35s):

No. Everybody should get a say. Huh. My other question is, is there still religious institutions? Yeah. We,

0 (32m 40s):

It's in the world we're in.

3 (32m 41s):

But so that means you still have leaders and politicians.

0 (32m 44s):

No, no, no, no. I get what you're saying because

3 (32m 46s):

You, my worry is that humans are like inherently hierarchical and now we don't have politicians. Okay. They are gonna find other like people to do the thinking on their behalf. So it's either gonna be religious leaders in

0 (33m 6s):

My world probably be TikTok as

3 (33m 9s):

Okay. It's gonna be, it's gonna be people who used to dance as a hobby, but now make bread. Hey man,

0 (33m 17s):

We all used to dance,

1 (33m 18s):

I think. Okay. So two, two last questions on it, right? One is, is are you going to be voting all the way down to making distinctions about the spending when we judge the spending? Because we say we want free healthcare. Now someone has to decide out of the money that we do have, how much of the budget should leave other things to go to the free healthcare.

0 (33m 41s):

Yeah. Right.

1 (33m 42s):

Is that also gonna get a vote?

0 (33m 44s):

No. Because this is where I believe somebody who's good at numbers is better than somebody who's good at talking. Okay. And I think a lot of the time our issues in society come from the fact that politicians get involved in that. But what do they know about it? Like who are they to divide up a budget and be like, oh, we should send this much to defense and we should

3 (34m 2s):

Send bomb. They're getting advice from their bureaucrats.

0 (34m 4s):

No, they're not, but they're not, we know that they're not, they're getting advice from lobbyists. They're getting advice from special interest groups. They're getting advice from like someone who's scratching their back. They're getting advice from the company they're gonna go to after they leave government. Yeah. That's where they're getting their advice. Yeah. So I am, again, I'm not even saying my system is perfect. We will discover things we might need to tweak. But I'm saying the current system is that humans who don't know numbers are saying what the number splits should be.

3 (34m 34s):

Have

0 (34m 35s):

You ever seen these stories where the American military has to like, spend money but like really fast just because they have excess money? Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah. Yeah. And they'll, they'll, they'll tell you these stories. They're like, they told us, they said we have to build something. And we were like, we don't need to bill anything. And they said, we don't give a shit. Build something. And so we built, we built, we built a warehouse in Afghanistan. And you're like, what is the warehouse for? They're like, we don't know. We just built it. But that, that's an, that's a system that's not working correctly. Right? Because you had an excess, instead of building an empty warehouse in Afghanistan, you could have built like 50 schools, maybe even more. But you just had to finish that money because then that's how budget you see. That's what I'm saying. I would eliminate those people not involved in that.

3 (35m 12s):

My, the issue I'm having is people vote against their own interests all the time. Yes. And they vote for things that are bad for them. Yes. And in history, the best pol not even politicians, the best leaders, leaders have gone against like say a Fred Hampton, RIP gone against the status quo.

0 (35m 32s):

Yes.

3 (35m 32s):

The people were like, no way. Do You Know, like really deeply unpopular idea. And sometimes it's like, top down, this is what we're going to do. Like to give an example, like the covid mandate. Yes. Like, well, If you don't get this shot, you're not coming to work. And then people were like, oh. Some people were like, okay, I'm gonna quit my job. But most people were like, all right, shoot me in the arm. Yeah. And then it, You Know, kind of didn't eliminate, but this life-threatening virus slowly receded from society even though it's still there. Right. So the thing that we need about politicians is that they can push through unpopular things by force that people do not want.

3 (36m 15s):

But we can take back that power,

0 (36m 19s):

Right? Yes. So now, and

3 (36m 21s):

We can get rid of them. Yes. However, if I'm in a society where I'm in like a minority that knows that this will be better for us as a group. Yes. Let's think about gay marriage. Okay. It was like never a popular thing. Yes.

People were like, no, no, no, no. And then the Supreme Court one day was like, oh yeah, actually, why not? You Know what I Mean?

0 (36m 40s):

But by the time that happened, the American population in general was not opposed to it. But

3 (36m 47s):

There were enough. It

0 (36m 47s):

Did not, it was not contrarian when it was passed. But there were

3 (36m 49s):

Enough people that would still vote No,

0 (36m 53s):

No. But but not enough to win the vote. That's what I'm saying. On the app. On on the app. They wouldn't have won the vote. That's what I'm trying to say. And, and so I agree with you. I actually think sometimes I don't think people vote in against their best interests. Just like randomly. I think a lot of people vote against their best interests because they've been sold something that is different to what it is. So if we look at Fred Hampton as a good example, like right, the leader of the Black Panther organization, when his, when he formed his Rainbow coalition, what did he do there? He found a way to connect poor white people and poor black people and poor other color people. And he was like, whatever race you are, If you are poor, we are putting you together in a group. And he said to these white people, I know you think that I'm a Forget that for now.

0 (37m 33s):

Are your kids hungry? Yeah. Well, their kids are also hungry. Is your house leaking? Their house is also leaking. Let's forget your racism for now, let's just fix these issues. Let's, let's band together and let's, let's work on this. Right. And what that shows you is that those people once presented with an issue that solves their problem, don't vote against their best interest. But what politicians do is they get in the way of fixing things. So they say, you, you wanna vote for free healthcare, You Know who's gonna use your free healthcare? The Mexicans. And then people are like, damn, we shouldn't vote for free healthcare. So I'm actually arguing, get the politicians out of the storytelling. Everyone just has it on their app. And when they're in the privacy of their own home with their own little device talking to their own version of Siri, they just get to have a conversation where it goes like, and they go like, so where's the money going?

0 (38m 21s):

And it's like, well, the pool and or where, what are we spending? Well your teachers need more money and this is, Do you want them? And you can still vote no. But now what you vote is what happens. There's no one who inflames tensions. There's no one who gives you a story around it. Well

3 (38m 36s):

That's where, that's my issue. 'cause I think that you under like politicians is just the name and the label on the

0 (38m 41s):

Job. No, I know what you're saying. Humans

3 (38m 43s):

As are political animals.

0 (38m 44s):

I I hear what you're

3 (38m 44s):

Saying. And there's gonna be that person that's gonna go around do the work. Yes. Go door to door. Yes. And say like, well the machin is telling you this, but I know Right?

0 (38m 54s):

Or

1 (38m 54s):

They go straight to the machine. Like Elon would just buy

0 (38m 57s):

Whatever the thing is. No, my system. You can't do that jar.

3 (38m 59s):

Why? There's money capital. No, you can't. How are you gonna pay for all this stuff? Because

0 (39m 2s):

I rule the world. That's how I'm doing it. Oh my. You guys forgot that I ruled the world. My gosh. I said If I Ruled the World, oh,

3 (39m 8s):

I'm so, there's no,

0 (39m 9s):

If I Ruled

3 (39m 9s):

The World, so there's no wealthy people in this society, they, they

0 (39m 12s):

This thing Same where you can't just buy the election system. Like no. In a functioning country. You cannot, you can't just

3 (39m 19s):

Buy it.

0 (39m 19s):

You can't just be like, I'm buying election.

3 (39m 21s):

Oh, one day I wanna buy an election. That's like, what I

0 (39m 24s):

Mean is you can't just like buy election. It's not for sale is what my point is. Gotcha, gotcha. That's the thing. I'm not a tyrant. I'm not saying no stories, no narratives. No, no. The differences though. Let's look, let's use America as an example. In America, when you ask people about gun safety, overwhelmingly, I Mean the number moves, but like you find at some points it's like 75% to 80% of the American population agrees that there should be stricter regulations on certain types of weapons and who can hold them and who can sell them and who can buy them and what magazines and what I Mean all of it. It doesn't get passed by the people that have been elected to represent the people. That for me makes no sense. But

3 (40m 4s):

Why don't you just ban lobbyists or like, 'cause don't think have less money in politics.

0 (40m 8s):

No, because I still don't think it's a, because I think this issue has long, it's like lived beyond lobbying and it's lived beyond. Does that make sense?

1 (40m 15s):

Yeah. One thing I agree with within that is that like even without the lobbyists, you, you can never underestimate the level of laziness that any given politician has. Like there's all this stuff where politicians have let their aides read the entire bill. Yes. Then describe it to them.

3 (40m 32s):

People, people are lazy. We're giving them an app. Some people may just their kid vote. Oh no, you go ahead, you vote for me. No,

0 (40m 37s):

No, no, no. Our thing has biometrics. You can't do that.

3 (40m 40s):

Oh, so it's a surveillance. It's not technology,

0 (40m 42s):

It's not, it's not surveillance. It's biometric surveillance. It's, it's biometric.

3 (40m 46s):

Okay.

0 (40m 47s):

It's biometric the same way.

3 (40m 48s):

This is like fucking dystopian

0 (40m 50s):

Shit. Wait, can I just say, can I just say this is

3 (40m 52s):

Dystopian, sorry.

0 (40m 54s):

Misassigned by force. You're telling me about dystopian. That is dystopian. I'm

3 (40m 58s):

Saying Do you I don't wanna give the government my eyes. Okay.

0 (40m 60s):

Okay. Does your phone, does your phone lock using your face? No. What does your phone lock? Using A

3 (41m 4s):

Number. Like a normal person.

0 (41m 6s):

So your phone no fingerprint,

3 (41m 7s):

No nothing. No. Not to get my phone right now. And

0 (41m 9s):

Your phone. I'm,

3 (41m 10s):

So that's, I was, I'm not taking the mark of the beast.

0 (41m 15s):

So then I'm saying to you, I'll give you a device that locks using a number. It's just biometrics. But I would know that it's you.

3 (41m 21s):

Ah, Trevor. Just paper tick. Let's,

0 (41m 24s):

Let's make it simple. No, I was, no, I would know it's you. No, I'm making it the most simple. You don't have to go anywhere. You know, can I tell you what has the highest voting rates? American Idol. They never complain about low voter turnouts. Yeah, yeah, yeah. They've never once been like, nah, we couldn't get enough people to vote.

3 (41m 38s):

Yeah. Because it's like the same pool of people voting multiple

0 (41m 41s):

Times. No, but it's also because it's

3 (41m 43s):

Simple's simple. Why should like, okay. I don't think voting should be hard. 'cause now I am gonna sound like a gerrymandering like Republican. But we shouldn't make it too easy to

0 (41m 50s):

Vote. It should be too easy to vote.

3 (41m 52s):

No, no, no, no.

0 (41m 52s):

I think it should be completely easy because it is the will of the people.

1 (41m 56s):

Okay. And my last question there. Go ahead. Very last question. 'cause one thing that comes to mind is something that just happened in Australia a little while ago where the First nation people were basically trying to get a, like a parliamentary advisor

3 (42m 13s):

Recognition in the Constitution or

1 (42m 14s):

Something. Recognition and, and basically because all of Australia had to vote for it, it got a no. Okay. Even though it polled, well obviously some of this is politicians. And by the time people went there, they were like, wait, are they gonna lose their land if they get this? So there was some confusion there. But this is something that will never see the light of day. Yes. As long as everybody gets a vote on it. People who really have no stake in it. And then the people with all of the stake in it, because they're such a minority of the group, they don't have the advocacy that shows the people who aren't affected by it, how important it is. Right. So I'm not saying a politician and not necessarily even a lobbyist, but if we're missing out on those people, do we miss the opportunities for, let's say we're in a country with more men Yes.

1 (43m 2s):

Yes. Than women. Completely. I want women, Josh Johnson wants women to have reproductive rights. Right. Right, right. And so if more men are voting than women and men feel some type of way or they're like, I don't care 'cause it's not me Completely.

0 (43m 15s):

How,

1 (43m 15s):

How do we fix that in your

3 (43m 16s):

System? Yes. So it's bad for minority rights.

0 (43m 17s):

So you say this, you say this Josh, and this is what I love about you. You have a beautiful open heart. Josh Johnson. That's what I love about you. It truly is one of the things I love about you most contrary to popular belief, Contrary to popular belief and popular meaning Christiana, predominantly human beings are good and human beings are kind. Right. And it may seem like that is not the case, but you do realize for most of the biggest movements and changes we've experienced in society, the group who is not affected, or at least thinks they're not affected, has voted for white people had to vote to give black people the vote in America, in South Africa, in many places.

0 (44m 1s):

They're the literally, they had to be like, yes, the black people. And in South Africa, think about how crazy it was. It was a minority as well. In America you can be like, ah. They were like, wow. What's the worst that could happen in South Africa? A group of people who were like, what, seven, 8% maybe of the population were like, we're gonna let 90% of the population vote and see what happened. They had to vote for that. When it came to women's voting rights, men were the ones who voted to let women vote. So I think we should not take for granted that human beings are a lot better, better and kinder than we think they are. Because history is littered with examples of people voting even for people who aren't the majority and aren't the most. And to go back to what you said, there was confusion.

0 (44m 42s):

People didn't know what it meant. They didn't know if they were actually disenfranchising the first Nations people. So in my system it wouldn't do that. It would ask them a simple question and if they'd be able to get clarification and then they would be able to vote on behalf of the people who do not have the majority, which is what I think most voting is anyway. And I think it would alleviate a lot of those problems. But humans have shown they have the capability to do it. So I've made my pitch, I'm ready to take the votes.

1 (45m 8s):

Okay. I am going to vote yes. Because even if we don't see the politician as, as a sum, a zero sum good or evil, I do think that their ability to like just not care. Like just be like, I'm chilling. Yes. Like I represent these ideas, but like guys, I don't really care what happens. I just wanna get elected again. So like don't even make waves this time. I think if you're preach, I think if you're missing that preach then you, then you have a little bit more access to change quicker than the clip that we've seen. Okay. Preach.

3 (45m 45s):

I'm going to vote. No. But not for the reasons that Trevor thinks. Not because I think human beings are so awful and terrible, even though I do think they are. But because I think that it's easy to get burnt out thinking like most people do not like to think about political choices all the time. That's why they outsource these decisions. And I think what would eventually happen would be a dictatorship. Like people would be so burnt out. They're like, actually I don't wanna think about this ever again. Is there one person that can do for me if it's a good outcome, it'd be a woman dictator, which we don't really get to see often. So there

0 (46m 19s):

Would be more burnt out Yes. Than the system we have now. Yes. Where people have to like see campaigns and go to a ballot

3 (46m 25s):

Station. Yeah. Because most, most people

0 (46m 27s):

Listen to things and read things that,

3 (46m 29s):

One thing I believe about humans is that there are a lot of apolitical humans out there. Like most people do not,

0 (46m 33s):

I agree with you,

3 (46m 34s):

But there's not, they don't wanna think about this. But there's not

0 (46m 35s):

Politics. This is just issues.

3 (46m 36s):

They, they don't even wanna think about issues.

0 (46m 38s):

Politics are what humans put on top of an issue. No, this is

3 (46m 41s):

Just an issue. I don't want a life with issues.

0 (46m 43s):

But everyone handles issues.

3 (46m 44s):

No, no. Some people have good lives, Trevor.

1 (46m 47s):

But

0 (46m 47s):

Even those people, even those people, If you say to them, should we build another opera house? They're like, yeah, I would like a say in this. So you're saying no because you think that people won't like it more.

3 (46m 56s):

I think it sounds, ti it sounds really tiring the system. And I just say that like parents are telling you, they're gonna be like, please no.

0 (47m 4s):

Wow. Yeah. Well now guess my vote doesn't go through because Christiana is tired.

1 (47m 14s):

Yeah. I Mean, Josh, I like that. What we've,

0 (47m 16s):

Josh, now

3 (47m 17s):

Now's your chance to like, defend me and be like, there's reason

0 (47m 21s):

She's just saying she's tired. Well, well, and that's why she doesn't wanna make the world a better place.

1 (47m 24s):

No, no. Here's my pitch, here's my pitch for what Christiana is saying though, is that I think that right now we think that people are politically exhausted because of like candidates or ads or just like a system. Yeah, yeah, yeah. I think that that, that level of engagement doesn't necessarily increase just because the quality of someone's life gets better. It's, it's why people stop taking their medicine. You ever see somebody who's sick and then they get prescribed the medicine and they're like, man, I feel great. I feel so good. I'm not gonna take my medicine. That's, I mean, this, is that true? That's kind of what I hear when, when Christian's like making these points, is that it's like there's a level of apathy that we think we're solving with this, which we are. I

0 (48m 4s):

Don one amendments at you. Yeah. Okay. We gamify it like Candy Crush. Candy Crush has never struggled with people. I've never seen anyone on the train be like, oh, another level. So I'm saying I'm gonna gamify it. I'll make it really entertaining. Really cool. This is, this is insane. No, you'll be playing. He's the joker. You'll be playing the game. You'll be playing the game and then you'll be like, it'll be like exciting and it'll be like, it'll be like level four and then it'll be like in between level four. It'll be like, Hey, Do you wanna fund a another school? And then it'll be like, you're like, yeah, we should fund another school. And then you go back. That crazy candy.

1 (48m 35s):

It is, it is a little dystopian.

0 (48m 37s):

People always have time for games. People, no one guys, the reason social media makes so much money, it's not because people are tired of being, people are not tired of engaging. People aren't tired of engaging in boring things. I can't believe this. I Mean, people tired of engaging boring things. I'm with you. Not even one person puts down their phone and goes like, ah, too much TikTok, Christiana, you are guilty of this. I know you spent seven hours on your phone and you don't have 10 seconds to vote in my app. 10 seconds to vote in my app, guys. I will make my voting system cutesy and demure.

1 (49m 6s):

I'm with you. But now you're beholden to the attitude of somebody who is getting annoyed 'cause they can't pass a certain level. Yeah. And, and

0 (49m 14s):

No, I'm saying there's different gamifications. We, we'll find a way.

1 (49m 17s):

I just think it's a little dystopia to be like, play for your rights. What the I,

0 (49m 21s):

No, what I'm saying is we'll make it, I was a dystopian or not. We'll make it interest. You Know what, If I Ruled the World, I wouldn't ask you guys before I lost any laws. I should have said that. If I Ruled the World, I would just do shit. That's what I would do. I would just do shit. And we'd live in a better world and you guys could play your game well anyway, thanks. Thanks for coming. Thanks for joining us here. I need to, I need to go and reevaluate my views on democracy and, and the system. Josh Christiana. As always, it was a pleasure.
